Our website uses cookies. A cookie is a small text file that can be stored on your computer when you visit websites. If those cookies are not strictly necessary for the provision of our website and services, we will ask you to consent to our use of cookies when you first visit our website.

WHAT IS A COOKIE?

Information is saved in this text file, such as your choice of language on a website. When you visit the website later again, this cookie returns to the concerned website. In this way, the website recognizes your browser and can for example retain your choice of language.

Cookies usually also have an expiration date. For example, some cookies are automatically deleted when you close your browser (so-called session cookies), while others can be stored longer on your computer, sometimes until you delete them manually (so-called permanent or persistent cookies).

COOKIES THAT WE USE

We use several types of cookies on this website:

- (a) Essential Cookies. We use essential cookies to authenticate users, prevent fraudulent use of the Website, and to allow the Website and its features to function properly.
- (b) Functional Cookies. We use functional cookies to provide enhanced functionality and personalization, to remember your preferences, to diagnose server and software errors, and in cases of abuse, track and mitigate the abuse.
- (c) Analytics Cookies. Our analytics providers use cookies as part of their tools. Analytics cookies allow us and our analytics providers to recognize and count the number of users to the Website, see how users interact with the Website and different functions, and when users are using the Website. We use this information to improve the Website.
- (d) Advertising Cookies. Our advertising providers use advertising cookies to identify and store behaviors that users take when visiting our Website. These cookies are used in order to: (i) identify you as a prospect for our Website; (ii) deliver advertisements that are more relevant to you and your interests; (iii) limit the number of times you see an advertisement; and (iv) help measure the effectiveness of our advertising campaigns.

- (e) Social Media Cookies. Our Website includes social media widgets. These widgets may collect internet or other electronic network activity information, such as your IP address and which page you are visiting on our website. These widgets may set a cookie or utilize other tracking technologies to accomplish this. Social media widgets are hosted by a third party and your interactions with those features are governed by the privacy policies of the companies that provide them.
